OUR STORY

We are the UK's premier memorial jewellery and glass art studio. Our stunning designs are modern, timeless and comforting. The quality of our work is exceptional.

For more than 25 years we have been trusted to make the most personal and precious pieces of jewellery and artwork. Our highly skilled team of master craftsmen do all of this by hand in our own studio using traditional tools and techniques. It's the only way to do it.

Our passion and capability keep us at the forefront of our industry, ensuring our exclusive designs are the very best available. We are extremely confident that you will not find better quality anywhere else.

Our founder Siobhan, regarded as a true master of fused glass and jewellery design, personally invites you to visit our inspirational studio to meet our fantastic team and see what we do.

OUR PROCESS

Having developed our process since 1997, we ensure that from the moment you choose your tribute, you can feel safe in the knowledge that your piece is being created in house by our experts who respect and understand the impact of a lost loved one within a relationship, family and community.

Using one teaspoon of ash or a pinch of hair, we lovingly create your stunning tribute to your chosen design. Your loved one's ashes or hair are expertly placed within the design whilst being made.

Our highly skilled team handmake your design to order, just for you. Designs with glass are placed in our kilns and heated to high temperatures where the molten glass encapsulates your loved one's ashes forever in the artwork or gemstone. Diamonds and gemstones are all handset to our exceptional standards.

Once your unique tribute is made, the quality is checked and certified. We then beautifully package your piece which completes our process.

MEMORIAL JEWELLERY COLLECTION

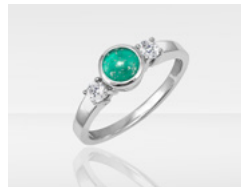

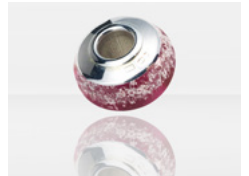

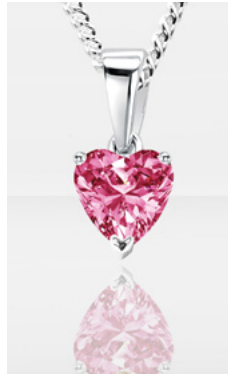

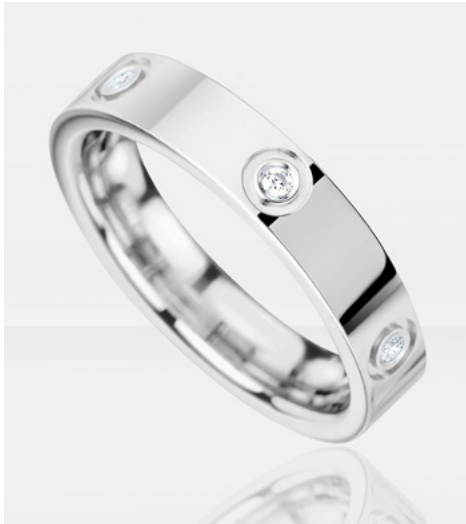

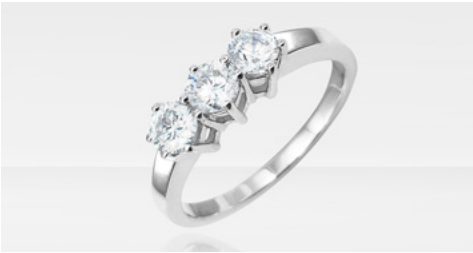

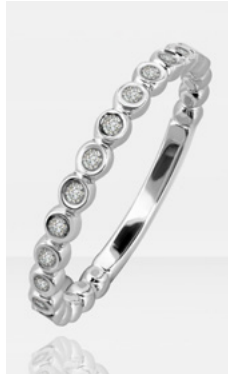

With over 150 unique and exquisite designs to choose from, our Memorial Jewellery is handmade to our exceptional standards by our master craftsmen who make each piece to the size, design, and precious metal of your choice.

Whether you are looking for a design with glass and ashes, a solitaire diamond ring, a heart shaped emerald necklace, a classic plain memorial band or an eternity ring with rubies or sapphires, we have collections for every preferred style of jewellery. We also have more discreet designs where the ashes or hair are not visible.

Our jewellery is hallmarked by the Birmingham Assay Office. We also certify every piece that we make, this is our guarantee that the ashes that have been provided are the ashes used to make your piece. Our jewellery includes optional engraving, allowing you to make your chosen piece even more personal. Rings are engraved on the inside, pendants, charms and cufflinks are engraved on the back, charm beads are engraved on the bead cap.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

How can I order from you? Full details on how to order are on the next page of this brochure.

How long does it take to make my memorial? Orders take approximately 10 working days to complete when ordering online and 20 working days when ordering using any other method.

Can I come and see you? Yes, you can pop in or make an appointment. We have a consultation room and many samples available to see and try on. We will also take you through the process we use to make your pieces.

For those that cannot visit, please book a video consultation, watch the video on our website or take the virtual tour of our studio.

Will I be able to see the ashes in the pieces? All designs made with glass have visible ashes. Our Secrets Jewellery Collection is designed to be more discreet and personal, so the ashes or hair are hidden within the piece and not visible.

Can I have more than one person's ashes or hair in a piece? Yes, we regularly do this.

How much ashes are needed to make a glass art memorial or piece of cremation jewellery? One teaspoon is required for each item made. We return unused ashes with your finished piece. If using hair, a pinch is required per piece.

Can I bring all my ashes to you if I don't want to open them and remove the required amount of ash? Yes. Please bring them to us or we can arrange a courier to pick up the urn or ashes box.

How do I know that my piece contains my loved one's ashes? Our entire process is quality assured and each piece is certified to guarantee the ashes that are within it are those of your loved one. Appointments can be made to see the ashes being placed into your piece.

What is the warranty on my jewellery? Our jewellery comes with a 12-month manufacturing guarantee. Please read full warranty details on our website. Should you ever damage your piece, we do have a repair service and can repair any piece without issue.

How do I pay for my chosen piece? If ordering online, we will take payment at checkout (Klarna Pay Later financing options available at checkout).

If ordering through our postal service, we will call you when the ashes arrive to confirm your order and take payment.

If ordering in person, we take payment when placing the order.

Do you make custom designs? Yes. We can design and make custom jewellery or artwork. Please get in touch to discuss your ideas with us.

Do you work with Resin? Resin is a pourable plastic. Whilst there are many companies that use this for memorials, we don't believe it is suitable as resin discolours in the sun, will shrink over time, and is easily damaged by water, soap, cosmetic and cleaning products.
